Education

Ph.D.	University of California, Berkeley City and Regional Planning, 2007	Berkeley, CA
M.C.P.	University of California, Berkeley City and Regional Planning, 2002	Berkeley, CA
B.S.	University of California, Davis Community and Regional Development, 2000	Davis, CA

Academic Interests

I situate my scholarly research within intersections of racial equity, immigration, and city planning. I draw on detailed narrative case studies to study ethnic identity, neighborhood revitalization (in both urban and rural context), and community change. My research identifies and examines equitable planning outcomes generated by

- increasing affordable housing,
- supporting inclusive land-use policies,
- recognizing generative forms of economic development,
- providing access to public and active transportation systems,
- incorporating an environmental ethic, and
- designing transparent public participation mechanisms to revitalize urban cities and rural towns.
